Be a part of a great collegiate rivalry to benefit Children's Healthcare of Atlanta. Come see two of college baseball's national powers, the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets and the Georgia Bulldogs, as they compete for state bragging rights in the eighth annual Spring Classic for Kids. Last year, more than 24,000 tickets were sold for the event at Turner Field.

Proceeds from the event will go toward operating expenses for the intra-operative magnetic resonance imaging (iMRI) system, used to treat children with brain tumors and other neurological conditions, such as epilepsy. There are six great ways for your group or company to entertain your guests with a fun evening at Turner Field while supporting Children's.
